

Mainstreaming Gender in Urban Agriculture

The Programme ensures that training, policy formulation, project development and monitoring activities are gender sensitive. This is achieved by integrating gender in all RUAF methodologies, instruments and training activities.

It also ensures gender differentiated project design and monitoring systems by commissioning gender case studies.

The Programme prepares guidelines and publications on gender and urban agriculture.